

Who

A global movement that believes in the power of education to change the world for the better.

What

An organisation that seeks promising young people and facilitates their access to spaces where they can develop their potential.

Why

To enable the development of a sustainable and equitable world free from conflict.

How

By providing educational experiences that equip young people from diverse backgrounds with the skills needed to address global challenges.

Peace & Sustainability

Making education a force to unite people, nations and cultures for peace and a sustainable future.

3 in 1

An education organisation, volunteering organisation &
advocacy organisation

160

Countries & territories

A movement made up of schools and national organisations working in 160
countries and territories.

Deliberately Diverse

Grounded in the principle of deliberate diversity & designed to develop changemakers who build peace, embed sustainability and advocate for social justice.

UWC's Impact

Creating Changemakers

Impacting not just the lives of young people who attend our schools and participate in our short courses, but also their families, communities and the wider world.

Education Innovation

Leading the way in global education innovation and leadership through curriculum development and teacher training.

Addressing Global Challenges

Influencing on a collective and multi-sectoral level, with our worldwide network tackling specific and global challenges.

Educational & Leadership Development Model

Seek

We find young people with the potential to change the world, especially those from areas most likely to get left behind due to conflict and climate change. We seek to develop diverse communities that welcome people from every socio-economic background to build true International understanding.

Educate

We develop and deliver educational programmes in our 18 schools and across our short courses, educating more than 11,000 people every year from more than 160 countries. Our programmes promote inquiry-led, values-based leadership, academic excellence, entrepreneurial thinking, project-based learning and community service.

Inspire

We inspire local and global communities to work together to change the world. We develop and pilot transformational curriculums; we train teachers; we organise forums; we incubate innovative projects; and we organise our global alumni community to take individual and collective action to address the world's greatest needs.